Weekend Features Costume Ball, Whelen, Wayne in Jazz Contest

• GEORGETOWN HOSPITALITY HALL will be the scene of the Mardi Gras costume ball, first attraction of the 1956 Winter Weekend, February 10 and 11.

Students will be asked to wear costumes to the ball, planned for Friday evening. During intermission a king will be selected on the basis of the best costume. His escort will be queen.

During the week of spring registration, tickets costing $1.50 will be on sale in the Student Union lobby. Co-chairmen Dick Giesler and Phyllis Mignone urge Commo holders to pick up their tickets as soon as possible.

The jazz concert featuring Wild Bill Whelen and Chick Wayne is scheduled for Saturday, February 11 in Lisner Auditorium from 3 to 5 p.m.

The Colonial basketball team meets Maryland at 8:30 the same evening at Fort Myer. Students should be at the game by 7 p.m. to be sure of getting seats, advised Dick Giesler. The Winter Weekend committee will reserve 375 seats for ticket holders. Following the game all fraternities will hold open houses in compliance with I.F.C. rush rules.

A cup will be presented to the fraternity with the best party room decorations for the Open Houses and to the sororities with the best outside decorations as part of the Weekend program. The theme for fraternity decorations will be scenes from New Orleans. Sorority decorations will be judged noon, February 10 and must deal with the Maryland-Colonial basketball game. All participants will receive Boosters points.

I.F.C.

• THE REGULAR TUESDAY evening meeting of the Interfraternity Council will be held at 8:30 p.m. tonight at the home of President Jack Crehore, 2122 Massachusetts Ave., N. W., Apartment 430.

IFC Endorses Further Rules

• FRATERNITY RUSH RULES, endorsed last Tuesday by the Interfraternity Council, include several important amendments governing violations by fraternity men and rushees.

Fraternities will be fined $25 per rushing violation, $25 for a pledge violation and automatic loss of a pledge class for the semester and $50 for improper initiation. Any admitted violation by a delegate in the I.F.C. shall be subject to automatic fine without the Council's vote.

Rush will extend from Wednesday, February 1, to Monday, February 13, the day of balloting. No women will be allowed in fraternity houses during rotation parties, Monday through Thursday.

Each rushee's card must be signed by the president, vice-president or rush chairman of four fraternities. At least three must be obtained during the rotation period and not more than one at open houses Sunday, February 12. All signatures will be countersigned by a stamp at each fraternity, making forgeries impractical.

Speaker Talks On Mid-East

• "THE SOVIET UNION is vulnerable due to the industrial development of Turkistan and the communication and transportation resources in this region," stated Dr. Peter Franck last Tuesday night.

Dr. Franck addressed the International Relations Club on the subject of "Competitive Coexistence in the Middle East." He is affiliated with the Middle East Institute.

Educated at the University of California in Berkeley, Dr. Franck has served as adviser to the government of Afghanistan. He is now teaching international economics at Howard University and has taught the same subject at American University.

The lecture explained the total situation in the Middle East with emphasis on those points which favor the West or the East. Dr. Franck said that the Soviet Union has not taken root in the Middle East yet, and that capital for East European countries has come from the West, although raw materials have been channelled to the East. (See Mid East, Page 2)

Sorority Rush Begins With Panhel Meeting

• THE UNIVERSITY Panhellenic Council is currently planning February rush February 5 to 10.

The spring rush period will begin Wednesday, February 1, with a Panhellenic meeting in Room C, Woodhull House, at 7 p.m. Open houses will be Sunday, February 5, from 1:30 to 6 p.m.

Rushees will attend seven one-hour parties Monday from 3 to 6 p.m. and Tuesday from 6 to 10 p.m. The next period will consist of four one-hour parties Wednesday between 3 and 10 p.m. Two final parties are scheduled for Thursday, February 9, from 7 to 10 p.m.

Rushees will sign preference slips Friday, February 10. Silence will be over at 3 p.m. the same day to avoid interference with the Winter Weekend activities.

Spring rush is open to new girls and those previously attending the University who are interested in

Groups Plan New Welcome Plan

• BIG SIS AND Old Men will greet new students with get acquainted functions during the first two weeks of the new semester.

Big Sis will hold a coffee hour February 1 at 7:30 p.m. in Woodhull House. Old Men plan a "glad hand greeting" for their sons at the same time on the second floor of the Student Union.

The executive board of Old Men will hold a joint meeting with Big Sis to consider exchanging sons for little sisters, and to coordinate the events of fall orientation. Big Sis has scheduled nosebag lunches at noon Monday, Wednesday and Friday in Woodhull House, February 6 to 17.

Old Men will accept petitions for new members and for the 1956-57 executive board soon after the Spring term begins.

Union Becomes Mock Drugstore During Annual Pill Rollers Dance

by Betsy Evans

• THE ANNUAL PILL Rollers Ball, sponsored by the School of Pharmacy and the Dance Production Groups, rolled into the Drugstore Student Union last Friday night.

About 250 students danced to the music of Al Bruffey's University pep band from 9-12.

A mock soda fountain was planted at the back of the Student Union and the posts were adorned with ads for "Vile Soap," "Ducky Cigarettes" and hot water bottles, "that 'special' gift for grandmother."

the program. Rushees must have a 2.0 QPI in previous University work and carry 12 hours (six if working full time). The Panhellenic assembly in Woodhull House will give University women an opportunity to register for February rush.

16 Students Model For Fashion Show

• THE 1956 ALL-UNIVERSITY Fashion Show has been scheduled for Wednesday, February 29 at 8:30 p.m. in Lisner Auditorium.

Sixteen student models, eight women and eight men, will show the latest styles in ladies' and men's clothing.

Each campus organization will nominate one of its members as a model candidate, and from these candidates, sixteen will be chosen for the fashion show by representative university organizations. The women models will be selected by Sally Ricci of Women's Coordinating Board, Eleanor Ready of Panhellenic and Lucy Anstine of Campus Combo.

The men models will be chosen by Roy Barnard of the Student Council, Jack Crehore of Interfraternity Council and Bob Gray of Campus Combo.

Admission will be free to Campus Combo holders and 50 cents for other persons, announced Barbara Wolin, Fashion Show Chairman. Miss Wolin said this will be the first time the University has had a fashion show featuring both men's and women's clothes, and using only student models.

Name Tags

Name tags, given out at the door, bore such literary gems as "The best of healers is 'good cheer'" and "Tobacco is a sovereign remedy to all diseases."

Sue Steinberg won two tickets to a National Symphony Orchestra concert in the drawing for a lucky name tag. Dottie Mansfield, Beverly Borden, Bonnie Borden

AF Band Presents Concert Tomorrow At 8:30 in Lisner

• THE UNITED STATES Air Force Band and "Singing Sergeants" will present their annual Colonial Program Series concert at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow in Lisner Auditorium.

Highlight of the program will be the "Colonel Howard March" dedicated to the band's conductor, Colonel George S. Howard and written by a Danish national, "Latin Lament," the latest composition of Chief Warrant Officer Fred Kepner, chief arranger for the band will also be featured in the program.

The selections vary from "Forces of Destiny Overture" by Verdi to "At the Gremlin's Ball" by Hill Sousa's "The Stars and Stripes Forever" and Strauss' "Southern Roses Waltz" will also be presented.

Review

Students Hear Mosel Lecture

• THE THIRD "LAST LECTURE" was presented Wednesday, January 11 by Prof. James N. Mosel of the psychology department.

Speaking on "A Slight Case of Over-communication," Professor Mosel said "The phenomena of mass media is a type of disease we are all suffering from, and don't particularly care."

Mass media, said Professor Mosel, produces a personality that becomes dependent on other people and tends to conform to group standards. He pointed out that mass media creates depersonalization because people talk to others through papers, radio and television, and these communicators become merely "anonymous" voices.

Absence of mass media would create "a motivated lack of interest," said Professor Mosel. The fourth of the Mortar Board "Last Lectures" will be delivered February 15.

Solo Selections

Soloist S/Sgt. Howard Ruff will sing the aria from Pagliacci by Leoncavalllo. Other solos are "Carnival of Venice," an accordion solo by S/Sgt. Joseph Soprani; "Che Gelida Manina" from "La Boheme," an aria by T/Sgt. William DuFree; and an harmonica solo by S/Sgt. Tommy Morgan of Enesco's "Roumanian Rhapsody," number one.

"Buglers' Holiday" by Anderson will be presented by a cornet trio composed of M/Sgt. Arthur Will, T/Sgt. Howard Martin and T/Sgt. Joseph Latinski. Captain Robert L. Landers, director of the "Singing Sergeants" will announce the selections.

Widely Travelled

The band, which was organized in 1942 and has since played all over the United States, recently returned from Texas. The band has made several international tours, pioneering in the theory that a musical organization serves as a good-will ambassador.

Deans Initial Schedules Before Registration Day

• JUNIOR COLLEGE students may avoid the first registration lines by having spring term schedules approved by advisers before registration begins.

Announcing this program, George M. Koehl, Dean of the Junior College, stated the new system will provide closer individual counseling for students and partial elimination of the initial approval line.

Students who have their schedules before registration, will go directly to subject departments for approval of selected courses.

Office hours of advisers are: Dean Koehl, M. 1:30-2:30, T. 2:30-3:30, 7-9, W. 11-12, 2-3, Th. 10-11, 1-2, Friday by appointment; Dean Lavell, M and W 10-12, 4:30-5:30, T. 9:30-11:30, F. 10-12. Also every second Monday evening 7-9; Dean Turner, M and W 2-4, T. and Th 10-12:30, F. 9:30-12:30, First Monday of the month 7-9; Dr. Vincent, M. 9:30-11:30, W. 7-9, F. 1-3.

Activities Fair Spotlights G. W. Organizations

• AN ARENA-LIKE stage and a fair barker will highlight the 1956 Activities Fair February 24 in Lisner Lounge and the adjoining Dimmock Room.

The Fair is staged annually to acquaint students with University clubs, publications and honoraries and to promote interest in extracurricular activities.

Every recognized and open membership group on campus may be represented by a booth at the Fair and each will be spotlighted from three to five minutes.

Fifteen activities were represented at the first planning session January 11. The next meeting is scheduled for February 8 at 3 p.m. in the conference room of the Student Union Annex. All interested groups are urged to send representatives.

After the eight o'clock Fair, a social dance will be held in the Union. It is hoped that both freshmen and upper classmen who refrained from joining activities will join the whirl.

Groups which have participated in past Fairs have found them an effective way to interest and enlist new members.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young scientist works on new ways to improve metals

Today scientists and engineers face one of the toughest barriers of all—the "metal barrier." Modern technology has progressed so rapidly that today's metals can't meet the tremendous demands placed upon them. For such fields as aviation, electronics, atomic energy, present metals must be improved and new kinds of materials must be developed.

One of the young men playing a role in this new and important field is 30-year-old Dr. Roland P. Carreker, Jr.

Carreker's Work Interesting, Vital

As a research associate in the General Electric Research Laboratory's Metals and Ceramics Facility, Carreker's chief concern is the improvement of metals through new processing techniques.

In his work, Dr. Carreker has dealt with such important metallurgical problems as metal failure in high-speed turbine rotors, determining the strength of pure metals from -425°F, the temperature of liquid hydrogen, to 2,800°F and economic studies of new metallurgical processes.

25,000 College Graduates at General Electric

When Carreker came to General Electric in 1947, he already knew the work he wanted to do. Like each of our 25,000 college-graduate employees, he is given a chance to grow and realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: When fresh young minds are given freedom to make progress, everybody benefits—the individual, the company, and the country.

Prize Awards Student $150

• THE 1956 JESSE Frederick Essary Prize in Journalism will be awarded to the student showing the most "promise of sound citizenship" and "ability in forthright reporting" in stories written for journalism classes or the HATCHET.

The $150 award is presented annually to a student in Journalism 81, 82, 121 or 137 or to a member of the HATCHET staff. Entries are judged on the collection and objectives handling of facts. Editorial writing will not be eligible. Feature writing may be eligible if it is not "slanted" and if it bears evidence of personal rather than literary research.

Class assignments written for Journalism 81, 82 and 137 are eligible. Entries from Journalism 121 may be eligible if they constitute objective reporting.

Chairman of the board of judges is Calvin D. Linton, assistant dean of Columbian College. Serving under Dr. Linton on the board of judges are Dr. Robert H. Moore, associate professor of English composition, and Dr. Philip Highfill, Jr., associate professor of English literature.

Entries prepared as assigned work in Journalism courses must be submitted through the instructor. Those entries published in the HATCHET are to be delivered through the Board of Editors. All entries must be in the hands of Dean Linton before April 15.

The prize was established in 1948 by the late Helen Essary Murphy.

Britain Offers Study Course

SUMMER STUDY AT British Universities is open to American students in 1956, according to an announcement made by the Institute of International Education.

Six-week courses will be offered at Oxford, Stratford-on-Avon, London and Edinburgh.

Courses are planned for post-graduate students, but highly qualified undergraduates in their junior and senior years will be accepted.

A limited number of scholarships will be available to American students. Award and admission forms may be secured from the regional offices of the Institute in Washington.

Courses to be offered are Shakespeare and Elizabethan Drama at Stratford-on-Avon; Literature and Art from the mid-18th to the mid-19th centuries, London; Literature, Politics and the Arts in 17th-century England, Oxford; and the European Inheritance, Edinburgh.

Further information on these scholarships, and all others open to University students, may be obtained by contacting Dr. Burnice H. Jarman, office of the School of Summer Sessions. Dr. Jarman is the new head of the Scholarship Committee.

countered in the establishment of business firms in Central and South America.

The two lectures are in line with the 1955-56 theme at the Law School: Law of Latin America. This theme was chosen because of the close cultural and economic ties of the people of Central and South America with those of the United States. These lectures explore some of the legal problems, emphasizing which affect private citizens and their attorney advisers. Each lecture is followed by a discussion period.

Editorial

Relax!

• THERE JUST ISN'T an editorial this week. We thought of pointing out the cultural advantages offered by Washington and the University (been to a Mortar Board "last lecture" recently?) but decided you've either found them yourselves or they wouldn't do you any good.

Obviously, something is the matter with us and if you turn back a page you'll see what it is. Activity and thought processes have been limited to treks to the library and some frantic page leafing for a couple of weeks.

Remember how we gayly sent you off to a glorious vacation way back in December? There was one solemn note about those last midterms but overall was the joyful Christmas spirit. So you had a wonderful holiday, and we had a wonderful holiday, and our revered profs had a wonderful holiday. But it's over.

In other words, from Air Science 1 to Zoology 199, there hangs a pall of gloom, a black cloud without even a tiny rainbow. But don't despond. After tomorrow, we get a four-day vacation. Why don't you recapture the glorious Christmas feeling? Run up to New York for a long week end. Stay home with a sun lamp and pretend you're in Florida. Loaf, laze, enjoy yourself.

If you are over-energetic, dash off to some cozy library and pick up the latest in hot literature. Play a few rounds of mid-winter golf. Then you'll come back next week improved in mind and body.

And why shouldn't you? What are exams besides a test of accomplishment and ability? You know you're great, so stop worrying about what Professor Whatzis and his grader think. Look at it this way. If we all have a frabjous time until Monday, we'll start exams with our natural intelligence unhampered by overcrowded conditions. The brilliant will do brilliant, the dopey, dopier and nobody will have a nervous breakdown. Grade curves will be the same, although possibly on a slightly lower scale.

So relax. Avoid needless strain and worry. Glance over a textbook or two Sunday night and get set to cream those little quizzes we'll have next week.

Council Capers

by Doris Rosenberg

• HELP! is what Bette Kolonia, Student Council Secretary, needs for the spring semester. Responsible for sending copies of the minutes of Council meetings to all campus organizations in addition to her many other duties as Secretary, Miss Kolonia has asked for an assistant. This would be an excellent opportunity for anyone interested in learning how the Council works, and might prove an invaluable aid for someone planning to run for Student Council Secretary in the future.

Students interested in assisting Miss Kolonia should contact her immediately.

The greater part of last week's Council meeting was spent in discussing the proposed changes for the Student Union. Earl Smith, Student Union Board Chairman, said that President Marvin has already approved the major changes, which include equipping the entire second floor with tables and chairs to alleviate the crowded noon-time condition of the first floor, and shifting the third and fourth floors.

Pay Typewriters

The third floor study and reading lounge will be moved to the fourth floor, where the noise from the juke-box, Fire House and the streets below will be greatly diminished, and the lighting improved at least two-fold. The third floor can then be used for "eating and chatting purposes," Mr. Smith said. He added that the television set would also be moved from the fourth to the third floor, and that typewriters would be installed in the sound proof rooms on the fourth floor, which are now being used as music rooms. The typewriters will be for the use of the students, at the rate of 10¢ a half-hour.

Students Demonstrate Need

There has been no provision made for a new soundproof room, on the third floor, to house the piano. As matters now stand the piano will be removed from the fourth floor music room and will not be available for student use unless the students demonstrate the need for a new soundproof room in which to put it.

Complaints against the removal of the piano should be addressed to Mr. Smith or any member of his Student Union Board. If enough complaints, with cases and facts to back them up, are received, a soundproof room will probably be built on the third floor for the piano.

The lounge chairs now on the second floor will all be moved to upper floors to make room for the new eating tables which are to be installed. The partition in the center of the second floor will be knocked out, and the Student Club theme extended throughout the entire floor. According to President Marvin, all of the new tables, 10 long and 18 small ones, • BROWN HAIR, brown eyes, wears glasses, looks very serious but occasionally comes up with an impish grin, carries his law books in a brief case—that's Bill Driscoll.

One of the students who was elected to Who's Who this year, Bill is the very busy president of the Student Bar Association in the Law School, and as such he is active now planning for Law Day, to be held March 3.

As president of Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary for men standing in the top 35% of their class and able to meet many other requirements, Bill is a member of the Student Life Committee.

Council Selections

• AT A SPECIAL meeting on January 15 to select a new editor for the Student Handbook and one co-chairman for the Student Enrollment Committee, the Student Council elected James Newheiser for Student Handbook editor and Raymond Garcia for the Student Enrollment Committee co-chairman.

Mr. Garcia's appointment is an interim appointment. His co-chairmanship will automatically expire this spring when the Student Council will select new co-chairman for all campus activities.

the LAW REVIEW, Bill is a member of the Traveling Troubadours, which took him to Thule last Christmas. He enjoys singing but is determinedly against singing lessons. "I'm trying to keep my lack of talent a secret," he says.

Bill did his undergraduate work at Manhattan College and came to the University on a Trustee Scholarship for Law School. He likes the University "very much. It's given me an opportunity to do a lot of things I never would have done otherwise and I've met a countless number of really fine people."

After June graduation, he may stay in Washington to practice law, but he may go back to New York. He was born in Brooklyn, and though he somehow or other never picked up an accent, he is thoroughly imbued with pride in New York City. "It has everything anyone could want—except quiet and trees," he says.

will have wooden tops on which to carve your initials, to give the Club more atmosphere.

Union Open Sunday

Mr. Smith also announced that the Union will be open, to accommodate people studying, on Sunday, January 22 from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. (The Union is usually closed all day Sunday.)

In addition to the proposed Union changes, several other topics were discussed at the meeting. Beverly Borden, Freshman Director, announced that the next Activities Fair meeting will be held on Wednesday, February 8 at 3:00 in the Conference Room. As Chairman of the Fair, Miss Borden urges all organizations intending to sponsor a skit in the fair to send a representative to this meeting, if they were not represented at the January meeting. Each representative should bring an outline of his organization's skit to the meeting.

Apple Blossom Princess

The Council voted to sponsor an Apple Blossom Princess contest for the purpose of selecting a Princess to represent the University at Winchester's annual Apple Blossom Festival. Each organization will be asked to nominate a candidate for Princess as soon as possible, as a winner must be chosen before Saturday, February 11. Dick Sincoff, Member-at-Large, will be in charge of the contest.

CONDOLENCES, FRIENDS.

But remember, the brightest day is followed by the deepest dark, the worst is yet to come, life is a loom weaving confusion, and you can still leap off the Washington Monument before January 23rd.

Now onward to brighter topics. After my week's absence, I am learning of many, many engagements and pinnings which took place over the holidays.

PINNED: Roger Turner, Colonial mound ace and member of Delt, and Pi Phi pledge Pepita Lassalle; pinned at Delt's New Year's Eve party . . . Barbara North, DG pledge, to Ed Ferero, Phi Sig . . . Mae Crouch, also pledging DG, to Earl Faulk, SAE . . . KD pledge Leanne Lutz to Phi Sig Pete Morton.

MARRIED: Kappa Ann Cochran and Dick Higgins, a senior at Catholic U, were recently married.

ENGAGED: Kappa Sig pledge Bonnie Tipton to Mary Jane Keating . . . Chi O Ellen Raley to Navy Lt. Jg. John Prach, a graduate of G. W. . . alums Ginny Leetich, Kappa and Jay Howard, Delt . . . AEPI Leon Salzberg to Joyce Marcus . . . Mary Arny, DG, to Earl Haltermann . . . June Hinkle, Sweetheart of TEP, to TEP Nell Felsman . . . AEPI alum Walter Gooch, now at G. W. Med School, to Marion Gross . . . ZTA Joan Heffner to Jerry Conway . . . Theta Patty Evans to Joe Bell, a transfer from William and Mary (both are English lit majors in Columbian College) . . . Chi O Linda Draper to Army Lt. Bob Newton.

For your poetic enjoyment, this new limerick has been submitted to Foggy, in the absence of a literary magazine at the University:

"There was a young prey named Roy,
Who was our own pride and joy,
Till jokes in Gov. Hall
To the shock of us all,
His sanity seemed to destroy."

The Pike birthday party, given in honor of Warren Lytle and Danny Lay, may have been taken for a Hobo party; that is, if one was out of it to the extent that one did not notice the publicity on the forth-coming Pike Beard-growing Contest for the annual Shipwreck Ball. Everybody's working hard to achieve 22-inch beards before the Ball.

Pre-finals Parties are all the rage . . . the Kappa Sig-Pi Phi exchange used this theme, and also celebrated KS's third-place win in the swimming meet last Friday . . . Phi Sig's "Flunkers"

"Follies" saw proxy Jim Biller and veep Jim Newheiser taking part in contests, to the enjoyment of Bob Dolson, Pi Phi's Judy Stimson and Molly Lukens, Dick Cunningham and pledge Steve Mahler. SPE's Pre-Finals Party was sparked by ZTA's all-girl chorus, and was attended by DZ's Carol Jordan and Phyllis Mosesso, who were escorted by Charley Lepchinsky and Gino Slatick.

Delt pledge Sandy Morrison was by far the best "Little New Year" of 1956, as he played the part at the party at the house.

That's all, kiddies, back to your books and Benzedrine for another 237 hours. And I will do the same, until the next issue of the paper, when Foggy will be back with more vital tidbits.

Good luck!

Photographer Shows Work

by Jane M. O'Brien

Mr. Bodine's approach to photography is a combination of craftsmanship and creativity which is evident in "Dock Worker." The print pictures the activity of the workers in bright sunlight, with the dark frame of a building accented by the bright effect.

Lights reflected on the water contrast the dark forms of the ocean going vessels in "Baltimore Harbor—night." Here Mr. Bodine has illustrated his ability to achieve an atmosphere.

The studies of abstract forms are not only well thought out but puzzling. He has taken well known objects such as a flight of stairs, visualized them at an unfamiliar angle, stressing the importance of form, light and dark.

One of the photographs in black and white, the "Lake Fisherman" portrays a peaceful lake at dusk, the softness of the evening light is evident as in a fine etching.

Mr. A. Aubrey Bodine's self-portrait and "Menhaden Fisherman" give a fine sensitive approach to the portrait in photography.

Mr. Bodine has had two picture-history books published "Maryland" and "Chesapeake Bay and Tide Water."

ment. I don't give the professional fans that much influence in the college game, and what's more, he doesn't convince me that there really is a problem. College basketball has changed greatly. Rules changes have accelerated the game, teams play faster, score more points, run more. Is there something wrong with college ball, or is it, as the reporter says, "actually . . . nothing?"

There maybe something wrong in the way players are recruited, but that's not for me to decide. There may be crookedness unknown to the public. But Mr. Reporter's claims against the game involves how it is played, and to lay blame on the fans in the professional league is a flimsy approach.

Rather than label college basketball as wrong, I say it has a problem, a problem of how to play the game so as to satisfy those who scream for more and more points and those who want to see good defense and applications of the fundamentals of the game. Professional fans have contributed to this problem, but so have all basketball fans and rule makers, coaches, the owner of arenas, owners of pro teams and the heads of universities and colleges.

Spectator sports—the sports that rely on the fans to keep them in the black—have to give the fans what they want. Today basketball followers tend to go for the high score, the spectacular point total of star players and the cheetah style of game. We like excitement, we like the thrill and we will not spend money to see a game duly played. Tastes have changed. Where the slower, lower-scoring center jump games were once popular, crowds today throw bags and peanuts and stomp their feet when the action begins to drag. Anticipated action brings rooters and rooters bring money, and colleges prosper.

The reporter for the Mirror advocates a time limit on shots, to reduce stalling and to eliminate the freeze. He says a team with a small lead in the closing minutes is as good as home now, "and feels a time limit would more fairly allow the other teams a chance to win."

That has some merit, but I should like to change the present pre-game, where, with a 24 second limit, the teams merely run up and back, up and back, running up scores of 100 or better regularly and providing little more than exercise for themselves and for the scorebook keeper's finger.

In collegiate basketball I should like to see the return to the one shot foul rule, except when fouled in shooting. I'd also like to see the officials allow a little more contact before blowing a foul. A close game where the players are eager, too often degenerates into a session of walking between the free throw lines. Teams should be capable of playmaking. There should not be a time limit on shots. Sometimes I like to watch a team crack a freeze or watch the freezing team apply it successfully. College ball offers excitement in the different types of offenses and defenses, not like pro ball where you have just the man-to-man defense.

time to a 73 to 48 win. Perhaps the most startling fact in this game was Joe Holup scoring only one point. Joe, who had fouled out only twice in 30 games last year, fouled out with 14:20 remaining in the second half. The Keydets threw a zone defense against the Colonials with three dropping off on Holup every time he got near the ball.

Joe Petcavich replaced Holup and came through with a good performance, being the second high scorer with 14, and Jay Manning rounding out the double-figures men with 13.

The Colonials will be a busy team when they return to action after finals as the first four teams they meet will include three teams that they have lost to. The Colonials play VPI, Furman, Richmond and then Maryland.

VIVE LE POPCORN!

The other day as I was walking down the street picking up tinfoil (Philip Morris, incidentally, has the best tinfoil, which is not surprising when you consider that they have the best cigarettes, which is not surprising when you consider that they buy the best tobacco and the best paper and put them together with skill and loving care and rush them to your tobacco counter, fresh and firm and loaded with gentle smoking pleasure to lull the palate and beguile the sens^s and shoot the blues) the other day, I say, as I was walking down the street picking up tinfoil (I have, incidentally, the second largest ball of tinfoil in our family. My brother Eleanor's is bigger—more than four miles in diameter—but, of course, he is taller than I.) the other day, as I was saying, while walking down the street picking up tinfoil, I passed a campus and right beside it, a movie theatre which specialized in showing foreign films. "Hmmm," I said to myself, "I wonder how come so many theatres which specialize in showing foreign films are located near campuses?"

And the answer came right back to me: "Because foreign films are full of culture, art, and esoterica, and where is culture more rife, art more rampant, and esoterica more endemic than on a campus? Nowhere, that's where!"

...he keeps hoping she'll turn back into a woman...

I hope that all of you have been taking advantage of the foreign film theatre near your campus. Here you will find no simple-minded Hollywood products—full of treacly sentiment and machine-made bravura. Here you will find life itself—life in all its grimness, its poverty, its naked, raw passion!

Have you, for instance, seen the recent French import, Le Jardin de Ma Tante ("The Kneecap"), a savage and uncompromising story of a man named Claude Parfum, whose consuming ambition is to get a job as a meter reader with the Paris water department? But he is unable, alas, to afford the flashlight one needs for this position. His wife, Bon-Bon, sells her hair to a wigmaker and buys him a flashlight. Then, alas, Claude discovers that one also requires a leatherette bow tie. This time his two young daughters, Caramel and Nougat, sell their hair to the wigmaker. So Claude has his leatherette bow-tie, but now, alas, his flashlight battery is burned out and the whole family, alas, is bald.

Or have you seen the latest Italian masterpiece, La Donna E Mobilita ("I Ache All Over"), a heart shattering tale of a boy and his dog? Malvolio, a Venetian lad of nine, loves his little dog with every fibre of his being. He has one great dream: to enter the dog in the annual dog show at the Doge's palace. But that, alas, requires an entrance fee, and Malvolio, alas, is penniless. However, he saves and scrimps and steals and finally gets enough together to enter the dog in the show. The dog, alas, comes in twenty-third. Malvolio sells him to a vivisectionist.

Or have you seen the new Japanese triumph, Kibutzi-San ("The Radish"), a pulse-stirring historical romance about Yamoto, a poor farmer, and his daughter Ethel who are accosted by a warlord on their way to market one morning? The warlord cuts Yamoto in half with his samurai sword and runs off with Ethel. When Yamoto recovers, he seeks out Ethel's fiance, Chutzpah, and together they find the warlord and kill him. But, alas, the warlord was also a sorcerer and he has whimsically turned Ethel into a whooping crane. But loyal Chutzpah takes her home where he feeds her fish heads for twenty years and keeps hoping she'll turn back into a woman. She never does. Alas.

Sigma Nu Places First in Swimming

by Chis McAvoy

A NEW INTRAMURAL swimming champion emerged from the turbulent waters of the YMCA pool last Friday evening and dethroned perennial champions DTD. The Sigma Nus, spurred on by the lusty cheering of John Harrison, won the meet with 42 points garnered entirely on second and third places.

The victors were followed by Med School (35), DTD and Kappa Sig (30), and Sigma Chi (25). The Law School finished with 31 points, but were not considered in the final standings, since they lacked the required five men for a team.

Points were given on a 10, 7, 4, 1 basis for the first four places in the flat races. The three best times were considered for the relays. On the whole the caliber of swimming was improved over last year, and the turnout was excellent.

Larry Mihlan

The Outstanding Individual Swimmer Trophy was won by Larry Mihlan, a Kappa Sig transfer from William & Mary. Larry, who lifeguards in New Jersey in the summer, scored 30 points in winning the 50 and 100-meter backstroke and the 75-meter individual medley.

Here are the results of the ten events, with the winning time following the names of the swimmers who placed:

Buff Wins Last One Before Final Exam

by Paul Welch

• THE COLONIAL FIVE takes a two-week layoff for final examinations after finishing more than half of its schedule. With ten remaining games scheduled, the Colonials have a record of 11 wins and four defeats.

Last Tuesday night, the team traveled to Wake Forest taking the ball in to Captain Holup. VPI led at half time, 34 to 26, but with Joe Holup leading the charge, the Colonial five pulled up in a tie with the Gobblers, 61-61.

Seconds late, Joe Petcavich committed his fifth foul of the game which gave VPI's Quillen the foul shot attempt. He missed, but out of a group of leaping players, Bill Matthews tipped in the deciding goal. All night long the Gobblers were hot as they dropped in a terrible 60% of their field goal shots.

The Colonials in losing dropped in 46% of their shots with Joe Holup again leading the scoring parade with 20 points, making seven out of 11 attempts. Jay Manning dropped in 14 and Telasky 10 each. In winning their tenth game of the year the Colonials sank 43.3% of field goal attempts and 51% of foul shots.

Fourth Setback

After a two day rest the Colonials met VPI in Blacksburg but the Gobblers weren't as pleasant as the Deacons were and handed the Colonials their fourth setback of the year on a last-second tap in shot, 63-61. The Techmen, who had split even in ten games, threw up a good zone defense and the Colonial playmakers had trouble getting

but not to stay put

Like well-coordinated athletes, helicopters really distinguish themselves in motion. Because of their unique ability to move about quickly and surely in close quarters, modern helicopters have earned a remarkable reputation as the world's most versatile aircraft.

However, like most engineering triumphs today, rotary-winged aircraft present a stimulating challenge for tomorrow.

Certainly a bright future is assured. But the exciting details of that future remain to be discovered and worked out. Since Sikorsky Aircraft is the world's pioneer helicopter manufacturer, it naturally follows that the world looks to Sikorsky for continued leadership. And to provide the creative engineering abilities such leadership will demand in the future, Sikorsky looks to you.

Obviously, you want to choose your career wisely and well. Today there are countless fields in which you might invest the capital represented by your technical training and talent. It is our belief, though, that few of them can produce the dividends of satisfaction, the rewarding challenge and the possibility of career growth that you will find here. If you will write to Mr. Richard Auten of our Personnel Department, he will gladly tell you more about Sikorsky Aircraft.
